ZIHP unconventional

Are you (re)starting your academic career after...

- ... working in the private sector?
- ... a break due to family duties or forced migration?
- ... a second Master's degree or vocational training?

In short, have you taken an unconventional career path?

ZIHP*unconventional* supports biomedical researchers with unconventional careers by helping them acquire competitive grants and present their projects in front of potential donors.

Participants will be accompanied by a professional communication trainer for a 4-month period, preparing them for presentations of their research proposals to a scientific committee and to private donors in September 2022.

Advance your unconventional career and apply now!

Application Deadline:
1 March 2022
